This system is a objective type online quiz or examination system. It consists of quiz papers that are divided into a number of section like verbal, mathematics, English consisting of objective question with options. Through the system we can design quiz and then publish to make it active so that the students appear and know their ability. Moreover they can practice and get instant assessment. There are several features listed below :-

1. There is option that we can select question which we find difficult and time consuming to attempt later and when we click a link called "View Attempt Later Question" we are able to see those questions.
2. Each section has a predefined time. When that time gets over we get a message and are redirected to next section.
3. When the quiz time gets over we get the result of the quiz and the result can be saved to the hard drive in .PDF format.
4. Through Manage Tests, Manage Sections and Manage Questions we can add new or edit existing tests, sections and questions.
5. We can import the result of all users that have given a single quiz to the hard drive in .CSV format.
